Part 7: Project Statement

Project Statement

The project statement is the most important component of the Fulbright application. Scholars with the most compelling, theoretically sound, well-written, feasible proposals are generally recommended for awards. Sometimes those with outstanding professional achievements assume that a brief, general project statement will be sufficient; it is not. To ensure a competitive application, your proposed project, as well as the strategy for completing it, should be thoroughly explained in three to five single-sided pages.

Attach a detailed project statement of no more than five single-spaced pages (3,500 words)

Format

- The project statement itself must be three to five single-spaced typed pages. Do not exceed the character limit of the proposal. Including irrelevant or extraneous material may divert attention from the project statement.
- Begin the project statement with your name, country and the project title at the top of page one. At the top of each subsequent page, type your name and country.

- Aims of the project
- What do you propose to do?
- What are your research questions and hypothesis?
- What problems do you propose to solve?
- expertise? ?
- Does your proposal indicate original and creative thinking?
- Does your project focus on American Studies, rather than Chinese Studies
- Do you do RESEARCH, rather than, to learn, teach and establish joint degrees although they are an integral part of the exchange experience?

Methodology:

- How do you propose to conduct your research?
- What kinds of research approaches, methods you will use? For example, interviews; library or archival research; quantitative or qualitative. ?
- What information will be collected?
- Why is this information needed and appropriate to answer the research question?
- Be as specific as you can in specifying your research design and methodology.

Significance:

- Why is your research important for the field, your home country and your own professional development?
- How will your participation in the Fulbright impact your teaching or professional work?
- How will your research project results help you to develop new approaches to curriculum planning, student advising or pedagogy; expanding knowledge in the field through collaboration with U.S. colleagues?
- How will your research to deepen understanding between the people of the U.S. and China?

Evaluation and Dissemination:

- How will you apply your research findings to your teaching and research after returning to China? ?
- In what ways will you speak about your Fulbright experience? ?

- Will you plan to publish books or articles disseminating your research results?
- Will you support the Fulbright program through various activities such as becoming involved with alumni activities, serving on selection committees, recruiting new applicants and hosting visiting Fulbrighters?

Justification for Residence in the United States for the Proposed Project:

- Why is it necessary to do your research in the United States? Is your plan feasible?
- Are the resources you need for your research available in China or on the Internet?
- Provide reasons why you prefer to do your research at the potential U.S. universities? What kind of support will the U.S. university offer?
